Are you ready to challenge yourself professionally?

This National Board awareness workshop will introduce you to the Mission of the National Board of Professional Teaching Standards, and the process by which you can achieve National Board Certification.

You will explore the three main reasons why teachers choose to pursue becoming a NBCT:

- To achieve autonomy over your own professional development.
  - To master your teaching craft, through self-reflection.
- To give your work purpose again through stronger student achievement.

Come and learn all the details, develop your own possible National Board timeline, explore the benefits of National Board Certification, and find out about funding through NYSUT grants.

Offered through Kenmore Staff Development Center.
