

Dear Elementary School Parents and Guardians of Students in Grades K-5,

The New York State Education Department requires all school districts to survey parents using a “Digital Equity Survey.” The reason for this survey is to ensure that all students have access to computers and the internet at home to help in their learning. In order to collect this valuable information please complete and submit a survey for each of your elementary school students in grades K-5. Below are the directions for completing the survey:
