Help support these expectations when talking to your child at home:

Address everyone with respect. Insubordination to staff, name calling, threats and aggression are never acceptable and will lead to disciplinary consequences that may include exclusion from activities and school events.

Refrain from using cellphones during the school day. Some students have been observed texting, taking pictures, sending inappropriate or harassing messages and posting messages during the school day on social media. NFCSD policy prohibits the use of cellphones in school. There is no intention of unreasonable enforcement, while your help is requested in making sure that students comply with staff requests as to the appropriate time, place and purpose for cellphone use.
